

Josiah Royce: Partial Bibliography

Compiled by André De Tienne

© 2013–2016

The principal focus of the present bibliography is the secondary literature on Royce. For the most part, listed articles and books have some aspect of Royce's life, thought, and writings on any subject as their main topic, not as a tangential one. The compilation provided here remains permanently a work in progress. One of its shortcomings is that it does not list reviews of books on Royce, with rare incidental exceptions. Users of this collection of references are encouraged to bring any error to the compiler's attention, as well as to share relevant references that are missing, or to provide the exact references to their own recent Royce-related publications.

Papers in Archives

1. Royce Papers, Pusey Library, Harvard University, HUG 1755: 23 cubic feet (156 boxes: 98 folio boxes, 47 document boxes, 11 media boxes). Guide: <http://oasis.lib.harvard.edu/oasis/deliver/~hua16003>. This collection contains extensive writings, research notes, and correspondence documenting Royce’s philosophical thought as a student, scholar, and teacher. Materials include Royce’s manuscripts for many, but not all, of his published works, as well as drafts, outlines, and lectures, including course notes and lectures, and Royce’s research notebooks on logic. The collection also includes research notes and correspondence pertaining to Royce’s work on the history of California, as well as some documentation of Royce’s friendship with William James.
2. The Harvard University Archives holds several additional manuscripts by Royce in the papers of Richard Clarke Cabot (see HUG 4255, Box 14).
3. The Robbins Library in Harvard’s Department of Philosophy holds the books from Royce’s personal library, many of which contain Royce’s annotations. Robbins Library also holds a framed manuscript by Royce titled The Cult of the Dead.
4. The Houghton Library holds manuscripts of some of Royce’s works and correspondence with William James (see James, William, 1842-1910. Papers, MS Am 1092.9-1092.12), among other materials.
5. Other less significant publications and archival material pertaining to Josiah Royce and the Royce family are held at the Harvard University Archives and other repositories at Harvard. Consult HOLLIS, Harvard’s online library information system, and OASIS, Harvard’s online archival information system, to find these materials.
6. Royce, Josiah, 1855-1916. Correspondence with the Mason family. Houghton Library, Harvard College Library, Harvard University. Call No.: MS Am 2258. Date(s): 1900–1989. Quantity: 1 box (.5 linear ft.) Correspondence between Josiah Royce and members of the Mason family concerning family problems, including divorce. Letters concern Royce’s attempt to mitigate a Mason family problem (divorce) through the use of his theory of philosophy, especially concerning loyalty and the natural moral order. Correspondence concerns Daniel Gregory Mason, Edward Palmer Mason, and Mary Mason. Also includes some notes and letters from others concerning family issues. Deposited by Richard Hocking; received: 1989 Apr. 4.; gift from Kay Hocking, 2003 Jan. 22. These letters were given for safe keeping and restriction to William Ernest Hocking by Daniel Gregory Mason, and after the death of WEH, entrusted to Richard Hocking, who placed them at Houghton. The restriction was lifted on 2003 Jan. 22, by Mrs. Richard (Kay) Hocking. Guide: <http://oasis.lib.harvard.edu/oasis/deliver/~hou00169>.

7. Royce (Josiah) Memorial Collection. UCLA Charles E. Young Research Library, Department of Special Collections. Finding Aid for the Josiah Royce Memorial Collection, 1875-1936. Collection number: 253. Extent: 20 boxes (10 linear ft.). The collection consists of writings by and about Josiah Royce, copies of his correspondence, books, clippings and photographs. Physical location: stored off-site at SRLF. Advance notice is required for access to the collection. Additional archival material pertaining to Josiah Royce, including his last manuscript, The anniversary of the destruction of the Lusitania; a lecture given in 1875, Certain points in Aristotle's treatise on poetry, considered in relation to the light thrown on the subject by the developments of modern poetic art; and Royce's publication correspondence with Horace Scudder is held at the Bancroft Library at the University of California at Berkeley.
